

We want to feature YOU in our upcoming Quiz

Michael Page

Michael Page is looking for influential authors, teachers, and industry experts like you to collaborate on an upcoming quiz we're releasing. We'll provide quiz users with resources to improve their work skills and secure a pay rise, and we think your content would be valuable to users.

About the Quiz:

The quiz, titled "Are you ready for a pay rise?" helps professionals working in Singapore learn more about their strengths in the workplace, as well as where they need to improve.

Once they've received their assessment, we will provide them with tailored resources, from books to podcasts to online courses, to help them get to the next level.

Where you come in:

We'd like to feature your work as one of your resources, shown to users who would find value in what you've created.

We'll be sharing the quiz with our own audience through social media and email mail outs, and we also expect a high volume of traffic to the page.

This means more exposure for you, while helping us guide Singaporean professionals to reach new career goals.
